INTRODUCTION

The Amalfi Coast is probably Italy's most beautiful coastline, with a stunning combination of picturesque coastal towns and mountains, an abundance of both culture and nature. The landscape is immensely varied and surrounded by infinite ever-changing views. It can be typically Mediterranean, intoxicating with its wild perfumed herbs, with myrtle shrubs, thyme, rosemary and mastic trees, but it can also be very mountainous, almost alpine, with lush beech forests, mountain meadows and bare rocks.

This is the scenery you will discover during this stunning trek. The 'Alta Via dei Monti Lattari' is the long distance trail which runs high above the Amalfi Coast, from Cava dei Tirreni in the very East, to Punta Campanella, the very point of the Sorrento Peninsula. It roughly follows the ridge of the Lattari mountains, the backbone of the Peninsula. The scenery of this tour is therefore mainly mountainous, but there are several occasions to descend to the valleys, enjoying the incomparable mosaic-terraced landscape. Going from the sea to the mountains, or vice versa, there are always stupendous views, and you'll walk through little villages, vineyards and olive groves, Mediterranean scrub and woods, living rocks and chestnut woods. Beautiful little churches, ruins of castles and old farmhouses are found all over the place...

The 'Alta Via' dei Monti Lattari is definitely a must for the avid hiker (just like the 'GR20' in Corsica). You will walk through real mountain scenery, past amazing sheer drops, through chestnut forests and attractive countryside, with wonderful terraced lemon groves and vineyards. And you see cultural treasures like rural chapels, ancient farmhouses, old watermills and, every now and then, a herd of goats on your path! Walking in this area lets you enjoy some of the most splendid views on the Amalfi Coast and the Bay of Naples, while immersed in an almost alpine landscape. You will surely enjoy the rural scenery as well, which makes you feel like you're far away from the glamour of the fashionable places along the coast.

This short version of the 'Alta Via' is the easiest part of the full route, but it will bring you in any case to the highest top of the peninsula, and along some stunning trails not many people walk! You will discover that the Amalfi Coast has become Italy's most famous coastline with good reason, but also that there are still places where you can be all by yourself, surrounded by nature.

And there are thousands of other footpaths to discover too, some of which famous, such as the "Sentiero degli Dei" (the "Footpath of the Gods"), or are at least a thousand years old, like the "Maestra dei Villaggi" – the 'main road' of the Republic of Amalfi. During this tour we offer you the possibility to include some extra days to include also these (and pay a short visit to the famous coastal villages which are must-see attractions: Amalfi, Ravello and of course the scenic Positano).

Please note: the 'Alta Via' is a moderate, not easy (!) walking tour which is suitable only for more experienced hikers, with a good general physical condition. This short version is mostly along good paths, but there are several steep, rocky sections. Part of the route is waymarked, but elsewhere you have to find your own way, following our detailed route notes provided together with the maps. Average walking times: approx. 5 to 6 hours each day.

DAY-TO-DAY PROGRAMME

Day 1 – Arrival Monte Faito

Arrival in Castellammare di Stabia. From here you take one of Italy's most spectacular gondola's, with stunning views over the whole Bay of Naples, face to face with Mt. Vesuvius. At the top you are met by our staff and brought to your nearby hotel, beautifully located at the 'Belvedere'. We strongly recommend a short walk to take in the first views of Capri, Positano and Sorrento. Dinner is on the premises of the hotel tonight.

Accommodation: Monte Faito (Vico Equense), Hotel Sant'Angelo *****

Day 2 – Mt. Faito - S.M. al Castello

Directly from your hotel you hike into the highest mountains of the Sorrento Peninsula today. This central massive, known as the Monte Sant'Angelo a 'Tre Pizzi' (the mountain with the three peaks) offers some stunning scenery, with sheer cliffs, grotto's and lush beech forests. First you walk a while along gentle paths through the forest. You follow a stunning path along the edge of the 'Faito' high plain. The name 'Faito' refers to the extensive beech forests. As well is the area known for its 'neviere', where snow was stocked to supply the court in Naples with sorbets during Summer. Then the 'Alta Via' brings you onto the highest peak of the area, Mt. San Michele (1444 m. high – at only a mile from the sea shore!). After spending some time enjoying the best view that one could take in the Amalfi Coast (and perhaps have lunch here), you continue in western direction, along one of the most scenic paths of the area, with views ranging from the Cilento, Capri & the Bay of Naples. Then you descend into a nice wooded area, a park like landscape with cypresses and olive groves, and a stunningly beautiful, easy last stretch through the mountains above Positano brings you to your agriturismo in Santa Maria al Castello, the old fortress defending the narrow valley between the Amalfi and Sorrento sides of the peninsula. From here you can admire both the Gulfs of Salerno and Naples. You should make the short walk to one of the most stunning viewpoints in the area: with Positano literally at your feet. Dinner is on the premises of the agriturismo, completely based on home grown specialties.

Accommodation: Santa Maria al Castello (Vico Equense), Agriturismo

Total walking distance: 14 km. +500 m. /- 850m. Approx. walking time: 5 h.

Optional extra day

Your agriturismo in Santa Maria al Castello is literally 1 mile away from Positano. You can walk down to this stunning little town along an amazingly beautiful route through the mountains above Positano, with the possibility to walk all the way down to the centre of the village and the beach. Following ancient footpaths through the forest and past marvellous viewpoints, you first walk from Santa Maria al Castello down to the Caserma Forestale (the forestry service hut). The walk then continues through a nice wooded area in a park-like landscape down to Montepertuso. Along another medieval mule track you can then continue down to Positano itself. For the return you have several options: to make it easy you can first you take the local bus up to Montepertuso, where you start a very scenic walk around the upper valley. Along a historical flight of stone hewn steps you then walk back up to Santa Maria al Castello.

Accommodation: Santa Maria al Castello (Vico Equense), Agriturismo

Day 3 – S. Maria al Castello - Mt. Comune - Tore

Also today your trail starts directly from the door of your agriturismo. A first easy stretch, along the edge of the plateau, overlooking Positano, brings you to some of the most beautiful pastures in the area, green and covered with wild orchids, the plateau of Monte Comune. di Fontanelle. Then you continue to the 'beacon' of Monte Vico Alvano, after which a long descent brings you to the Colli di San Pietro and Colli di Fontanelle. From here you take a little path along the southern side of the ridge, now fully immersed in the Mediterranean colours and the lovely smells of the Mediterranean herbs. The path runs parallel to the seashore with spectacular views over the 'Islands of the Sirens'. Then the path descends quite steeply and continues through olive groves towards the little hamlets of Monticelli and Torca. From here you walk up along well maintained paths to your beautiful agriturismo in the middle of the orchards, where you will have a lovely meal made from local organic produce tonight.

Accommodation: Massalubrense, Agriturismo

Day 4 – Roundwalk Punta Campanella

Today you'll make a roundwalk over the ridge dividing the Bay of Naples from the Gulf of Salerno, discovering the very different landscapes and a number of charming small hamlets. Through pinewood, olive grove and orchards you walk down to the very picturesque inlet of Marina di Crapolla (where Saint Peter is alleged to have disembarked on his way to Rome) where you are free to have a swim. Then continue along well maintained paths to the charming little seashore village of Marina del Cantone, on the south side of the Sorrento Peninsula. The landscape is spectacular, you walk in a beautiful landscape, dominated by dry-stone walls and olive groves, all the time overlooking the sea. Halfway the morning you reach the beautiful small bay of Recommone, where you can perhaps already opt for a swim. The next stretch to Marina del Cantone is a great walk, past the ruins of a medieval watchtower, over the rocky headland, you reach the seashore hamlet of Marina del Cantone. From here you follow the medieval steps up to the small hamlet of Nerano, and from there up to the church of San Costanzo, where you have 360° views over both the Bay of Naples and the Amalfi Coast. A spectacular path, running along the impressive cliffs of the headland, then brings you to the tip of the peninsula, where, according to legend, Ulysses erected a temple in honour of Athena. In some parts the path can be a bit demanding, though never too difficult. The return, between Punta Campanella and Termini, is on a very comfortable path, the old Roman Via Minerva, with great views of Capri and a number of medieval watchtowers, which once protected the coast. From Termini you can then take the local bus back to Sant'Agata sui Due Golfi. Of course there is also the option to walk back, this time following a bit more inland route, with great views over the Bay of Naples. You can take some time to relax at your agriturismo and then to have another great dinner.

Accommodation: Massalubrense, Agriturismo

Total walking distance: 13,5 km. +800m -950m. (finishing at Termini) Approx. walking time: 6 h.

Day 5 – Departure

After breakfast you can easy return by boat or by bus and train to Naples, and then by shuttle bus to the airport. An extra night in a hotel can be booked upon request.
